

Sec. 9-242-3. System functions not required in Connecticut

The secretary of the state may approve a marksense or punchcard voting machine which does not accommodate rotation of candidate positions within an office and which does not accommodate straight party voting. No voting machine used in any election shall be equipped with a straight ticket device.

(Effective February 23, 1994)