

Sec. 22a-430-2. Exemption from public notice

(a) Definitions

The definitions of the following terms used in this section shall be the same as the definitions in Section 22a-430-1 of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies, as amended: commissioner, domestic sewage, residential building, septage, and sewerage.

(b) In addition to the exemptions specified in Section 22a-430-1 (b) of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies, the following categories, types or sizes of discharges are considered not likely to cause substantial pollution and shall therefore be exempted from the requirement of notice prior to the Commissioner approving or denying an application for a permit to initiate a discharge to the waters of the state:

(1) Discharges of domestic sewage to a municipally owned sewerage system in quantities less than one percent (1%) of the average daily design flow of a sewage treatment facility which has been issued a permit by the Commissioner pursuant to Chapter 446k of the Connecticut General Statutes;

(2) Discharges to a municipally owned sewerage system of less than 5,000 gallons per day of manufacturing process water, cooling water, wastewater from water softening equipment, commercial laundry wastewater, blowdown from heating or cooling equipment, wastewater from commercial vehicle washing or building floor drains;

(3) Discharges of water from heating or cooling equipment serving a single residential building;

(4) Discharges of domestic sewage or septage from vehicles to facilities which have been issued a permit by the Commissioner pursuant to Chapter 446k of the Connecticut General Statutes.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the obligation of any person or municipality to comply with the requirements of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act or the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

(Effective December 18, 1984)
