

Sec. 31-255-9. Revocation

This agreement may be revoked by either state by giving the other state thirty days' notice in writing of its intent to terminate, except that such revocation shall apply only to matters not theretofore brought to the attention of one state by the other state. However, matters which were the subject of prior negotiation shall be brought to a conclusion regardless of the date of termination.

(Effective October 12, 1978)