

Sec. 31-255-2. Transfer of contributions

Upon agreement between the signatories hereto that certain services concerning which payment of contributions was made by an employer to a refunding state constitute employment in the covering state, the refunding state will transfer to the covering state the aggregate amount of the employer contributions erroneously paid relating to such services, together with interest and penalties received by the refunding state to the extent of, but not to exceed, the contributions, interest and penalties due and owing the covering state, provided that such a transfer shall be made only upon the express consent of the employer concerned.

(Effective October 12, 1978)