

Sec. 14-270-24. Excess dimensions

With the exception of house moves and moves that are essential for national defense, the maximum width is limited to 16 feet. The maximum height is limited to the physical restraints of the route. In most cases, excess dimensions require an engineering review of the route to determine the least disruption to traffic. Two weeks should be allowed to schedule the review.

(Effective August 26, 1985)