

Sec. 19a-180-7. Factors to be considered

In determining whether a need for a new or expanded emergency medical service has been demonstrated, the Office shall consider the following factors:

- (a) The population to be served by the proposed service;
- (b) The geographic area to be served by the proposed service;
- (c) The volume of calls for the previous 12 months within such areas;
- (d) The impact of the proposed service on existing services in the area;
- (e) The potential improvement in service in the area including cost effectiveness and response times;
- (f) The location of the proposed principal and branch places of business in relation to health facilities and other providers;
- (g) The need for special services, if applicable; and
- (h) The recommendation of the any applicable regional council.
