

Sec. 22-7-29. Rules of conduct

Where applicable, the canons of professional ethics and the canons of judicial ethics adopted and approved by the judges of the Superior Court govern the conduct of the department, state employees serving the department, and all attorneys, agents, representatives, and any other persons who shall appear in any proceeding or in any contested case before the department in behalf of any public or private person, firm, corporation or association.

(Effective September 6, 1973)