RE: PR2023-055 “Real Estate Licensees” (LRRC Docket No. 2023-020)

Dear Senator Kissel and Representative Dathan:

Attached please find substitute pages for the consideration of, and approval by, the Legislative Regulation Review Committee regarding PR2023-055, “Real Estate Licensees”

The Office of the Attorney General identified technical edits that the Department agrees would improve the regulation. The changes are included within the substitute pages being shared with this letter. The two sections where technical edits are proposed are:

1. Sec. 20-325d-2: Renumbered subsections due to subsection (b) being deleted. In subsection (e), fixed spacing between the apostrophe and “s” in “buyer’s”, “lessee’s”, and “lessor’s.”
2. Sec. 20-328-1a: Subsections (a) through (c) are deleted, so subsections (e) through (h) were renumbered accordingly.

These substitute pages incorporate the technical comments described above that were received from the Office of the Attorney General. There is no substantive change to the intent or operation of the proposed regulation. We thank you for the opportunity to perform these technical edits.

Please contact CJ Strand, DCP Legislative Director, if you have any questions or concerns.

Form 1

Dual Agency/Designated Agency
Disclosure Notice and Consent Agreement
Given to Persons Represented by the Same Brokerage Firm

Brokerage Firm: _____

Property Address: _____

Buyer (tenant): _____

Seller (landlord): _____

The brokerage firm has entered into a written agency relationship with both buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord). Buyer (tenant) is now interested in buying (leasing) seller's (landlord's) property. If this transaction proceeds, the brokerage firm will be a dual agent, since the brokerage firm represents both parties. Connecticut law allows a brokerage firm to be a dual agent, but only after both buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord) understand what dual agency is and consent to it.

Connecticut law also allows brokerage firms that are dual agents to appoint individual designated agents within their firm to solely represent buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord); again, this designation can only be made after both buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord) understand what designated agency is and consent to it.

Both buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord) are free to seek legal and tax advice with regard to this transaction, and with regard to all documents signed in connection with this transaction.

Understanding dual agency

Dual agency means that the brokerage firm, and all the brokers and salespersons for the firm (unless designated agency is chosen) act in a fiduciary capacity for both buyer and seller (or tenant and landlord). In dual agency, the brokerage firm does not represent either the buyer or seller (or tenant or landlord) exclusively, and the parties can not expect the brokerage firm's undivided loyalty.

The brokerage firm may not disclose to either the buyer or seller (or tenant or landlord) any personal, financial, or confidential information to the other party except as authorized by either party or required by law. The brokerage firm may not disclose, unless otherwise instructed by the respective party:

- To buyer (tenant) that seller (landlord) will accept less than the asking or listed price;
- To the seller (landlord) that the buyer (tenant) can pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer to the seller, unless otherwise instructed to do so in writing by the buyer (tenant);
- The motivation of either buyer or seller (or tenant or landlord) for selling, buying, leasing the property; and
- That buyer or seller will agree to financing terms other than those offered.

Dual agency consent

Buyer and seller (or landlord and tenant) understand dual agency and consent to the brokerage firm acting as a dual agent in this transaction.

Understanding designated agency

Designated agency means the appointment by the brokerage firm of one broker or salesperson (referred to as agent) affiliated with or employed by the brokerage firm to solely represent buyer (tenant) as a designated buyer's agent and appoint another to solely represent seller (landlord) as a designated seller's agent in this transaction.

A designated buyer's agent and designated seller's agent owe the party for whom they have been appointed undivided fiduciary obligations, such as loyalty, reasonable care, disclosure, obedience to lawful instruction, confidentiality and accountability. The designated agent is not deemed to be a dual agent, and thus does not owe fiduciary duties to the other party. A designated agent may use confidential information obtained about the other party while a designated agent for the benefit of the party for whom they have been appointed, however, information obtained before the designation is still confidential. In the case of designated agency, the brokerage firm is still considered a dual agent.

Appointment of designated agents

Buyer and seller (or landlord and tenant) understand designated agency and have agreed to the appointment of designated agents.

If designated agency has been agreed to, the following designated agents have been appointed:

_____ has been designated to solely represent buyer (tenant) as a designated buyer agent.

_____ has been designated to solely represent seller (landlord) as a designated seller agent.
